Alexis Fox, the Massachusetts State Director of the Humane Society of the United States, will share techniques for citizen advocacy and help you be a tremendous voice for animals in your community.

If you are concerned about animal cruelty, farm animal protection, protecting wildlife, or creating a more compassionate Massachusetts, you should attend this informative and motivational meeting to learn how you can help. Together, we can be a strong unified voice for the animals and we want to hear from you.

Followed by an optional $10 all-you-can-eat vegetarian buffet at noon.
